

CURRICULUM VITAE

KEITH D. STANGLIN

Executive Director, Center for Christian Studies
Professor of Historical Theology, Harding School of Theology
Minister, University Avenue Church of Christ

Education:

Ph.D. (Historical Theology) (September, 2005), Calvin Theological Seminary, Grand Rapids, MI.
Dissertation Research, Universiteit Leiden, The Netherlands (2004).
M.Div. (May, 2001), Harding School of Theology, Memphis, TN.
B.A. (May, 1998), Oklahoma Christian University, OKC, OK.

Areas of Professional Research, Teaching, and Service:

My academic expertise lies in systematic and especially historical theology, as reflected in my scholarly publications. I have taught upper-level graduate courses in all periods of historical theology, Christian theology, comparative dogmatics, biblical hermeneutics, the history of biblical interpretation, moral theology, liturgical theology, and philosophical theology.

Additionally, I have taught introductory courses in biblical studies and theology, as well as Koine Greek.

As the executive director of a nonprofit ministry, I have demonstrated success in management, content development, journal and book editing, popular-level writing, seminar development and presentation, consulting, mission and strategic planning, video production, event planning and execution, budgeting and fund-raising (among many other things).

As an ordained minister, I have practical experience in various aspects of congregational ministry, including weekly teaching and preaching, pastoral care, vision casting, and leadership.
